

Job Posting: Director, Leadership Giving for the Museum of Indian Arts and Culture and the Office of Archaeological Studies

Status: Full-time; Exempt

Salary: $71,750-$75,000 per year

Join us in shaping the future of the Museum of New Mexico system.

We are looking for a Director of Leadership Giving to lead all development activities for the Museum of Indian Arts and Culture and the Office of Archaeological Studies. As an essential member of the Foundation's development team, the Director leads our trustee and major giving programs, and provides other fundraising support to the Museum of Indian Arts and Culture and Office of Archaeological Studies.

The Museum of New Mexico Foundation supports the Museum of New Mexico system, in collaboration with the Museum of New Mexico Board of Regents and the New Mexico Department of Cultural Affairs. The Foundation's principal activities are fund development for exhibitions and education programs, retail and licensing programs, financial management, advocacy and special initiatives.

What you'll do

- Provide strategic vision, leadership, and guidance to museum and historic site directors regarding leadership giving opportunities through individual consultations, while partnering with site leadership to develop donor engagement strategies and support solicitation efforts
- Maintain and strategically manage a portfolio of high-level prospects and donors, leading relationship development, solicitation, and stewardship efforts to achieve fundraising objectives
- Nurture long-term relationships with the Foundation and museums by creating effective stewardship programs for trustee and major gift donors, including cultivation and stewardship events
- Develop and manage tours, events, and meetings related to campaigns and major gift fundraising
- Assist in the research, writing, and submission of Foundation grants for museum projects as needed
- Create collateral materials specific to the giving programs, working collaboratively with our VP of Membership
- Manage a portfolio in Salesforce CRM to build and generate reports and lists for museums, committees, mailings, special groups, and solicitations
- Cultivate and manage relationships with museum Friends groups and Board Advancement Committees, serving as a strategic partner to advance philanthropic initiatives and strengthen support for museum and historic site priorities
- Work with donors to plan and secure legacy gifts
- Manage communications regarding museum campaigns and activities
- Provide regular museum development reports to trustees, volunteers, and committee members
- Stay current with current tax-law and ethics pertaining to charitable giving
- Performs other duties as assigned

What you'll bring

- A collegial and collaborative leadership style
- Ability to maintain a high level of professionalism at all times
- Adherence to donor and member confidentiality protocols
- Able to communicate effectively with donors, members, and volunteers
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team
- Ability to stay abreast of current trends, demographic changes, and industry best practices
- Ability to be an informed and articulate spokesperson for the Foundation and the divisions, and to be a passionate advocate for philanthropy

Required qualifications

- A Bachelor's degree with a minimum of three years of experience in development or a development-related field, or an equivalent combination of experience and education
- Proven strong leadership, interpersonal, and communication skills
- Strong organizational, fund-raising, budgeting, and strategic planning abilities
- Excellent attention to detail
- Excellent verbal and written communications skills
- Proven ability to speak in public
- Excellent computer skills, including proficiency in Outlook, Word, Excel, and PowerPoint
- Strong digital marketing skills
